
He's about to do it again

Three years ago at the West Coast Computer Faire, one man stood up and told the microcomputer industry about the shape of things to come.

Then, he pioneered that new market, which is worth over 2 billion dollars* today.

and now?

Adam Osborne offers the next glimpse of the future.

San Franciscan Hotel
1231 Market Street
(corner of 8th & Market)
Crystal Ballroom

Friday, March 23—3:00 p.m.

*Future Computing Inc.
